

Citizens Advice St Helens Recruitment Policy

1. Introduction

The purpose of this policy is to set out our approach to recruitment and selection and our commitment to equality, diversity and fairness.

2. Our approach to recruitment and selection

2.1 Having the right person in the right place at the right time is crucial to organisational performance. Citizens Advice St Helens is committed to ensuring that all stages of the recruitment process - writing the role profile and person specification, advertising, attracting and managing applications, selecting candidates, making the appointment and inducting the new employee - are conducted fairly and effectively.

2.2 Line managers are responsible for recruitment in. Everyone involved in recruitment and selection has a responsibility to make sure that this policy is followed.

2.3 Selection methods will be reliable, objective and guard against bias. Essential and desirable requirements for roles will be published in the role profile and person specification. The selection process normally consists of a (paper) short list and if successful, applicants are invited to interview. Some positions may require additional assessments (task/test or assessment centre). If this is the case, details will be included in the application pack.

Any test used will have been validated in relation to the job, free of bias and administered and assessed by a suitably competent person. All members of recruitment panels will have received guidance/briefing on recruitment and selection techniques and best practice.

2.4 As part of our commitment to customer care, we offer feedback to all unsuccessful interviewed candidates on request.

3. How our equality and diversity policy is reflected in the recruitment and selection process

3.1 Citizens Advice St Helens recognises the positive value of diversity, promotes equality and challenges unfair discrimination. We aim at all times to recruit the person who is most suited to the job and welcome applications from people of all backgrounds - men and women, people of all ages, sexual orientations, nationalities, religions and beliefs.

3.2 Selection for employment will be fair and equitable and based solely on the basis of the applicant's abilities and individual merit assessed against the criteria for the job. All personal details are separated from the application form before shortlisting and therefore not seen by anyone involved in making selection decisions. Selection panels only view Section 2 of the application form where there are no personal details. Citizens Advice St Helens will not discriminate or tolerate discriminatory behaviour on the grounds of race, colour, sex, gender identity, disability, nationality, national or ethnic origin, religion or belief, marital/partnership or family status, sexual orientation, age, pregnancy and maternity, social class, educational background, employment status, working pattern, trade union membership or any other irrelevant factor in any aspect of employment.

3.3 Our roles are open to discussion about flexible working, which would include arrangements such as part-time working, formalised flexi time, fixed (non-standard) working hours, working from home and job-sharing subject to business needs.

3.4 Monitoring recruitment and selection procedures is one way of helping us to ensure that there is no unfair discrimination in the way that we recruit people. To do this we ask about the diversity profile of people who apply for posts at Citizens Advice St Helens. This information is given in confidence, separate from the application form, and is not seen by any person involved in making selection decisions. However, if applicants would prefer not to answer any of the questions, they may leave them blank.

3.5 If any candidate feels they have been unfairly discriminated against during the recruitment and selection process, they may contact us to raise such concerns.

4. Disabled applicants

4.1 We have made a positive commitment to employing disabled people. Reasonable adjustments will be made to the recruitment procedure as required in consultation with the applicant to ensure no-one is disadvantaged because of their disability. If a disabled person is selected for a position, reasonable adjustments will be made to the workplace, including premises and equipment, work duties and practices or policies, as appropriate. All disabled applicants who meet the minimum criteria for the role as set out in the role profile and person specification will be guaranteed an interview. The following gives guidance on how the Guaranteed Interview Scheme is applied.

4.2 Minimum criteria These are the essential requirements that have been agreed for the post which may include qualifications, experience and skills. In setting the essential requirements, care will be taken to ensure that disabled candidates will not be disadvantaged. For scoring purposes, Citizens Advice St Helens uses the following ratings:

1. No evidence
2. Little/some evidence
3. Acceptable evidence
4. Good evidence

We invite disabled candidates to indicate on the application form if they need us to make any reasonable adjustments during the shortlisting process. Only shortlisted candidates are asked if they need us to make reasonable adjustments to interview or assessment arrangements. When an offer of appointment is made, successful disabled candidates will be invited to discuss their requirements for reasonable adjustments to support them to do the job. Disabled applicants may discuss their requirements for reasonable adjustments at any stage of the recruitment process with the recruiting person
